

Planned Parenthood's President, Cecile Richards, praised the "strength, determination and conviction" of their founder, Margaret Sanger in a March 8th, 2011 AOL News Opinion Piece.

Should Planned Parenthood really force taxpayers to fund the convictions of Margaret Sanger? In her own words...

Elimination of certain people she considered "human weeds" was central to her Eugenics philosophy:

"In this matter, the example of the inferior classes, the fertility of the feeble-minded, the mentally defective, the poverty-stricken classes, should not be held up for emulation..."

- "The Eugenic Value of Birth Control Propaganda." Birth Control Review, October 1921, page 5.

Sanger referred to immigrants and Catholics as reckless breeders, writing in her book, Pivot of Civilization,

"[They're] an unceasingly spawning class of human beings who never should have been born at all." (Sanger, p.187)

"The most merciful thing that a large family does to one of its infant members is to kill it."

- Margaret Sanger in her 1920 book Women and the New Race
